

Natural lubricating and penetrating agent

A safe, multipurpose lubricant that has thousands of industrial, home, farm and marine applications. Laboratory Research clearly shows that Gear Head has more lubricity than traditional petroleum-based products!

Gear Head's high polarity creates a much stronger bond to metal, allowing full lubrication and deeper penetration petroleum products can't achieve. Gear Head's non polar end creates an unmatched water barrier, making it the absolute best technology for preventing the damaging results of rust and corrosion. Choose the natural alternative.
